Innovation Awards 2017: Investing in the future

Presented by: Nick Careen, SVP Airports, Passenger, Cargo and Security, IATA

Innovative ideas are needed to make air cargo more efficient, transparent, and reliable and generally more aligned to meeting the needs of the customers. Launched during WCS 2014, the IATA Innovation Awards, which runs every two years, are designed to encourage, promote, recognize and support innovations within the air cargo industry. We will hear from the short listed finalists;

Astral Aerial Solutions, Etihad Cargo, OpenAirlines, Gatechain, Jettainer

and then....YOU DECIDE!!

The winning entry, although all entries are winners, will be selected jointly by the panel of judges and the audience.

15:40 – 16:00	Driving Change and Innovation Presented by: Edward Matti, Managing Partner CCM Consultancy In all industries, the pace of change is accelerating as customer expectations and demands become ever more demanding. Air Cargo is no different and therefore needs to truly embrace innovation. It is imperative that leaders today are equipped with the necessary skills to drive change in a positive manner and garner the support of those within their teams, from partners and of course customers. This presentation will explore how best to drive organizational change and embrace innovation in the process.
16:00 – 16:10	The Innovation Awards 2017: The WINNER is...
16:10 – 16:20	WCS 2018: Where next? Glyn Hughes, Global Head of Cargo, IATA
