ASIG APPOINTS BRYANT GILBERT VICE PRESIDENT, SALES

Orlando ... ASIG®, an industry leader in aviation services, announced today that Bryant Gilbert has been appointed as Vice President, Sales. He will report directly to Tim Ramsey, Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing and will be based at ASIG's Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) operation.

In this new role, Bryant will be responsible for addressing any additional service requirements of ASIG's existing customer partnerships as well as generating new customer relationships. Bryant will be responsible for all lines of business, working closely with the other members of ASIG's sales team.

Bryant has been employed with ASIG for 30 years and has held various jobs including General Manager of San Francisco International Airport (SFO), International Terminal Project Manager at SFO and Fuel Facility Manager at Miami International Airport (MIA). Most recently, Bryant was Area General Manager where he was responsible for overseeing several West Coast operations covering a wide variety of services including ground handling, refueling, cabin cleaning and technical services. The airports Bryant oversaw included San Francisco (SFO), San Jose (SJC), Los Angeles (LAX), San Diego (SAN) and Burbank (BUR). Bryant was also Project Manager for ASIG's first operation to obtain ISO 9002, which established the best management practices for aviation fuel quality control and aviation fuel management services throughout the company.

"With Bryant's background, existing customer relationships and diverse experience in ground support operations, he will be a natural fit for enhancing ASIG's ongoing sales efforts," remarked Tim Ramsey, Senior Vice President, Sales & Marketing.
