Flight Operations Group (FOG) - by Invitation only

CONTACT

Mr. Viktor Robeck
Head, Flight Operations Regulatory Affairs, FOPS
robeckv@iata.org

The FOG reports to the Safety Flight Ground Operations Advisory Council and meets twice a year. Membership consists of senior flight operations executives from 15 major international airlines. The group develops policies, standards, and recommendations on all aspects of flight operations (flight crew training, scheduling, CNS, meteorology, performance), new technology, human factors and it addresses operational matters of strategic importance.

AIRCRAFT PERFORMANCE TASK FORCE (APTF) - by Invitation only

Mr. John Synnott
Senior Manager Flight Operations Information Technology
synnottj@iata.org

Learn more

This task force meets annually and deals with all aspects of aircraft performance. APTF's work includes proposed government regulations; information provided by or required from the manufacturers, runway and airport issues including digitized performance and obstacle data. A further focus is to standardize and optimize the interface between the aircraft manufacturers' performance software and the airlines' computerized performance programs. The result is published as performance data specifications.
