MULTILATERAL PRORATION AGREEMENT

A. SCOPE OF AGREEMENT

Throughout this Manual reference to tickets shall include electronic tickets and reference to flight coupons shall include segments of an electronic ticket.

This Agreement applies to:

- a) The division of
 - i) international through fares and charges, and
 - ii) domestic through fares and charges either sold separately or in conjunction with international fares for passenger transportation and excess baggage. (see Section D for example).
- b) All original and reissued tickets where the ticket issue date is on or after the effective date of this Manual. The ticket issue date pertains to the ticket document and not the issue date of any associated PTA, MCO, v-MPD or EMD. (see Section D for example).
- c) Involuntarily reissued tickets where the issue date of the supporting rerouted ticket is on or after the effective date of this Manual. Where the supporting ticket issue date cannot be determined, the date of ticket reissue shall be used. (see Section D for example).

B. AMOUNT TO BE PRORATED (ATBP)

B1 Effective Date

The ATBP shall be the fare(s)/charge(s) in force on the date of commencement of the journey, except for tickets issued prior to the date of a fare change, the ATBP shall be the fare(s)/charge(s) collected, if based on the correct applicable old fare(s)/charge(s). (see Section D for example).

If the date of commencement of the journey is not available the date of issue of the original ticket shall be used.

B2 Applicable Fare(s)

- a) The ATBP shall be the through fare or excess baggage charge covering the flight coupon for which proration is required. This amount shall be based on the applicable fare or charge collected in the currency of country of payment converted in accordance with RAM Chapter A12 - see Section C. (see Section D for example).
- b) Add-on amounts, which are not available for transportation as published but which are used in combination with other fares to establish an unspecified through fare, and which are incorrectly shown separately in the Fare Calculation Area, shall be combined with the relevant fare to determine the ATBP. (see Section D for example).

MULTILATERAL PRORATION AGREEMENT

B. AMOUNT TO BE PRORATED (ATBP) (contd.)

B3 Round Trip Fares shown as one amount

Round trip fares shown as one amount on the ticket shall be divided into outbound and inbound fare components to form two equal amounts to be prorated.

- a) Where a point of turnaround is indicated in the Fare Calculation Area, then that will be the point of turnaround;
- b) If the point of turnaround is not indicated in the Fare Calculation Area, and the amount collected is the direct round trip fare to only one point, then that will be the point of turnaround;
- c) If the point of turnaround is not indicated in the Fare Calculation Area and the amount collected is the direct round trip fare to commonrated points, the point of turnaround shall be determined as follows:

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 2 points | - the 1st is the point of turnaround |
| 3 or 4 points | - the 2nd is the point of turnaround |
| 5 or 6 points | - the 3rd is the point of turnaround, etc |
- (see Section D for example)

Commonrated points shall also include any point between such points where the fare is less than the fare collected. (see Section D for example).

This procedure applies whether or not the routing to/from the point of turnaround is permitted at half the round trip fare collected.

B4 Circle Trip Special Fares Published as one amount

Special fares published as circle trip fares will be prorated as a single amount.

B5 Minimum Fares

Where any or all fare component(s) have been increased to a minimum fare, the increase(s) will be added to the fare(s) to form the ATBP. The entire journey will be straight rate prorated end to end. (see Section D for example).

Note: If different classes of service are used, the fare for the lower class of service will form the ATBP. The differential(s) will form separate amount(s) to be prorated over the relevant segments. (see Section D for example).

B6 Surcharge/Differential

- a) Any fare surcharge or differential applicable to a specific class of service shall accrue to the carrier(s) providing that service. If required, the surcharge or differential will be straight rate prorated. (see Section D for example).
- b) Any surcharge for late booking, validity extension, change of reservation, paper ticket fee, shown as separate amounts in the Fare Calculation Area shall accrue to the issuing airline.

MULTILATERAL PRORATION AGREEMENT

B. AMOUNT TO BE PRORATED (ATBP) (contd.)

B6 Surcharge/Differential (contd.)

- c) Any surcharge, except as covered in b) shall accrue to the flight coupon(s) for which the charge has been collected. If required, the surcharge will be straight rate prorated.
- d) One half of the surcharge collected for individual return in respect of group fares between Israel and Canada/USA shall be added to each fare component to form the ATBP.

B7 Stopover Charge(s)

- a) One way trip comprising one fare component.

The total amount collected for stopover(s) shall be added to the one way fare to form the ATBP.

- b) One way, round trip/circle trip or open jaw trip comprising more than one fare component.

Where stopover charge(s) are collected and the fare calculation consists of more than one fare component, the total amount for stopover(s) shall be divided equally by the number of fare component(s) comprising more than one flight coupon. The resulting share shall be added to such fare component to form the ATBP. (see Section D for example).

- c) Stopover charge(s) collected on tickets raised to a minimum fare shall be added to the fares and prorated in accordance with Article B5.

C. METHOD OF PRORATING

The value of each flight coupon shall be calculated by sharing the amount(s) to be prorated in proportion to the prorate factors published in the PMP applicable to the period covering the date of ticket issue.

- a) To establish the quotient to be used to determine the value, the quotient shall be calculated to five decimal places, unrounded and any residual amount shall accrue to the issuing airline. (see Section D for example).

D. PRORATION DETAILS

D1 Passenger Ticket(s)

- a) i) Proration shall be based on the original routing, carrying airlines and fare calculation points shown in the Fare Calculation Area. (see Section D for example).
- ii) Where no carrier or YY is shown in the Good for Passage box but a carrier is shown in the Fare Calculation area this is not considered as contradictory and the carrier shown in the Fare Calculation Area shall be used.

D. PRORATION DETAILS (contd.)

D1 Passenger Ticket(s) (contd.)

- b) Information missing from the Fare Calculation Area shall be obtained from the Good for Passage Area, provided such details were entered at the time of issue and no conjunction ticket is involved in the amount to be prorated. (see Section D for example).
- c) Where more than one carrier is shown, the first carrier will be the carrying airline.

D2 Sector not travelled by air

Where it is clearly indicated on a flight coupon that a sector of the routing is not good for transportation designated by a flight number (e.g. a "void" or "surface" coupon), no value shall accrue to such sector.

D3 Change of Carrying Airline

Where carriage is by an airline other than that originally indicated, proration shall be based on the original information. (see Section D for example).

D4 Assumption of Proration Details

In respect of Article D1, where the information on a flight coupon is incomplete or contradictory:

- a) Airline Information:
 - i) Where for a sector no airline or YY is shown in the Fare Calculation Area or in the Good for Passage Area, the Prorate Factor for that sector will apply; (see Section D for example).
 - ii) Where information is contradictory with respect to carrying airlines, the carrier information shown in the Good for Passage Area will apply, provided no conjunction ticket is involved in the ATBP, and such detail was entered at the time of issue. (see Section D for example).

b) Incomplete Routing/Fare Calculation Points

Where the passenger ticket is incomplete with respect to the routing and/or fare calculation points shown in the Fare Calculation Area, billing must be in accordance with RAM Chapter A2, Paragraph 1.2.2 - see Section C. (see Section D for example).

Note: Where full ticket details are provided by the issuing airline in accordance with RAM Chapter A2, Paragraph 1.2.2 (see Section C) the carrier and routing information shown in the Good for Passage Area of all conjunction tickets will apply, provided such details were entered at the time of issue.

D4 Assumption of Proration Details (contd.)

c) Contradictory Routing

Where the passenger ticket is contradictory with respect to the routing, billing must be in accordance with RAM Chapter A2, Paragraph 1.2.2 - see Section C.

To determine if the routing is contradictory, the billing carrier shall refer to the Fare Calculation Area, the Good for Passage Area and the origin/destination boxes.

Note: Where full ticket details are provided by the issuing airline in accordance with RAM Chapter A2, Paragraph 1.2.2 (see Section C) the carrier and routing information shown in the Good for Passage Area of all conjunction tickets will apply, provided such details were entered at the time of issue.

D5 Voluntary Rerouting

a) When reticketed due to voluntary rerouting:

- i) the carrying airlines shall prorate the reissued ticket on the basis of the information shown on the flight coupon of such ticket;
- ii) the reticketing airline shall receive the prorate value of the flight coupon(s) withdrawn on the basis of the information shown on such coupon(s).

b) Any difference resulting from the reissue shall accrue to or be absorbed by, the reticketing airline.

c) Where an under/over collection is made on the original ticket(s), the amount to be billed shall be determined in accordance with RAM Chapter A2 Paragraph 2.2 - see Section C. (see Section D for example).

D6 Involuntary Re-routing

a) In case of involuntary re-routing the carrying airline shall receive, over the revised portion of the routing, the value that would have accrued to the original carrying airline(s) calculated in accordance with the MPA-P.

b) Where more than one airline is involved in the involuntary re-routing, the value that would have accrued to the original carrying airline(s) shall be shared on the basis of straight rate proration. (see Section D for example)

Note 1: "The revised portion of the routing" means the portion where the re-routing begins to the point where the original routing recommences. Any sector(s) from the original routing which is (are) entered in the new ticket and is (are) not rerouted shall not be part of the revised portion. (see Section D for example).

D6 Involuntary Re-routing (contd.)

Note 2: In the case of billing disputes, if the issuing airline cannot supply an official tariff reference (Tariff Handbook, CRS system or electronic source such as ATPCO, SITA, Genesis etc.), the uplifting airline will bill on the basis of the lowest applicable official fare of the original carrying airline(s).

D7 Infant Fares

Infant fares of 10% or less will be straight rate prorated.

D8 Excess Baggage Ticket(s)

Excess baggage ticket(s) will be straight rate prorated on the basis of the original information. In case of incomplete routing, billing must be in accordance with RAM Chapter A2, Paragraph 1.2.2 - see Section C. (see Section D for example).
